

How To Put Your Cards on the Table

Talking about credit can be hard, so we made it easier with this simple game — Cards on the Table. Because when you put your cards on the table, you realize you're not alone.

Players: 2 to 5 (including one dealer)

Setup: Print out the cards using two-sided printing so the card backs print on the reverse of each page. Cut out the cards and stack them into a shuffled deck with the back side facing up.

How to deal: The dealer should distribute the same number of cards to each player, face down.

How to play:

1. Start to the dealer's left and move in a clockwise circle.
2. Each player in turn will flip over the top card on their stack and read it out loud.
3. For discussion-based cards like Credit Builders and Financial Flex, share your answer with the group. Then invite them to weigh in with their own stories.
4. For info-based cards like Credit Fun Facts and Credit Wreckers tips, read the fact to the group and invite them to comment.
5. For Credit Trivia cards, read the question but do not reveal the answer until everyone gets a chance to guess. Then the person who drew the card can share the answer.

Scoring: Guess what? This game is designed as a fun way to make financial literacy accessible. It encourages open conversation and shared ideas — so there's no need to keep score! (The only score you'll want to track is your credit score.) 😊
